What is Meme Coin?

Meme coin is a category of cryptocurrencies inspired by memes, characterized by playful branding and often driven by social media buzz. As a unique genre of cryptocurrencies, meme coin has gained significant popularity in the digital asset market.

Best Meme Coin to Buy In Australia for April 2024

With the rapid development of meme coin, all kinds of meme coins emerged. Investors may be confused when selecting the most potential meme coin to trade, especially for newcomers. This article will introduce top four meme coins to trade in April 2024 for Australian traders.

Dogecoin (DOGE)

If Bitcoin was the original cryptocurrency, Dogecoin was the original memecoin. Launched in 2013, Dogecoin (DOGE) was created by Jackson Palmer and Billy Markus, featuring a Shiba Inu dog. Unlike Bitcoin's limited supply, Dogecoin does not have a limit on the number of coins that can be generated.

Dogecoin saw a plain start to 2024, however, from February to March, the price of Dogecoin surged as Bitcoin created multiple new all-time highs. In March 5, 2024, Dogecoin price reached a new high of $0.195 and its 24-hr trading volume reached $4.479 billion. As of April 8, 2024, DOGE traded at a price of $0.19755.

As the crypto market saw many optimistic factors in 2024, experts predict the crypto bull run will begin in 2024. According to our market analysis, we are very confident about the outlook of Dogecoin. There is no doubt that Dogecoin is a promising option for Australian investors. It is predicted Dogecoin price would reach $0.32 on the high end and a lower end of $0.07825 and an average price of $0.1150 by the end of 2024.

Shiba Inu (SHIB)

Created anonymously in August 2020, Shiba Inu (SHIB) was another dog-themed memecoin based on the same set of internet memes as Dogecoin. SHIB is an Ethereum-based ERC-20 token. Since launch, Shiba Inu has gained huge popularity and success.

Shiba Inu is considered as a direct challenger to Dogecoin, capturing the imagination of investors with its cute dog mascot and a massive supply. Since March, Shiba Inu price has seen huge rally, it reached a new high of $0.00004289 in March 5, 2024. As of April 8, 2024, Shiba Inu traded at a price of $0.00002818.

As SHIB is a relatively rich and potentially valuable meme coin, we believe it is a good option for traders in Australia. It is anticipated Shiba Inu (SHIB) to be traded at a minimum value of $0.000000544, a maximum potential price of $0.0000463 by the end of 2024.

Pepe (PEPE)

Falling way behind DOGE and SHIB in terms of market capitalisation, Pepe is a memecoin based on a meme popularised by the often-problematic image board website, 4chan. Since launched in April 2023, Pepe Coin has rapidly gone viral. Because of its unique deflationary mechanisms and redistribution systems, Pepe Coin received large large popularity among investors.

In 2024, PEPE price experienced large spike. In early March, PEPE was only traded at a price of $0.00000272. PEPE price rapidly surged to $0.00000716 in March 5, then PEPE price increased amid volatility and reached a peak of $0.00001050 in March 14. As of April 8, 2024, PEPE traded at a price of $0.00000725.

According to market condition, we are still very optimistic about the outlook of PEPE Coin, believing it is a good investment option for Australian traders. It is estimated that by the end of 2024, Pepe Coin price can be traded at a maximum price of around $0.0000124.

Conclusion

Given recent remarkable performance, meme coins emerge as potential candidates for investors seeking high returns in April 2024. Amid a favorable environment, we are confident that investing above-mentioned meme coins is a right choice for Australian traders looking for huge profit.

However, as the primary significance of meme coins is rooted in their association with meme culture, instead of possessing inherent value or a specific purpose, these coins are notably prone to price fluctuations. Therefore, traders are advised to be well-informed and cautious before making any investment choice.
