Hedera (HBAR) Price Prediction 2024, 2025, 2030 - Is HBAR a Good Investment?

Original:

<https://www.btcc.com/en-US/academy/research-analysis/hedera-hbar-price-prediction-2023-2025-2030-is-hbar-a-good-investment>

Abstract:

- In 2023, Hedera, HBAR might reach $0.23
- Hedera's pessimistic price forecast for HBAR in 2023 is $0.067, assuming the worst-case scenario.
- Hedera's previous All-Time High occurred on September 15, 2021, when HBAR traded for $0.56.

The use of Hedera Hashgraph (HBAR) is expected to increase in the beginning of 2023. In just a month, its price had virtually doubled. The blockchain is promoted as a cutting-edge Layer 1 network that is suitable for business applications. While other investors think it's a better opportunity, they see it more as a worse version of Ethereum.

However, both are possible, and a multichain future has received a lot of attention as the ecosystem evolves. Hedera Hashgraph and Ethereum may find success together if progress is made on establishing interoperability between chains.

What is Hedera Hashgraph (HBAR)?

Hedera is a public network based on the proof-of-stake (PoS) consensus method that is built on the open-source hashgraph distributed consensus algorithm, making it ideal for the development and deployment of decentralized apps (dApps) that prioritize speed, fairness, and security.

The asynchronous byzantine fault tolerance (aBFT) consensus system Hashgraph provides excellent bandwidth efficiency while handling hundreds of thousands of transactions per second in a single shard.

The Hedera network's native token, HBAR, is used for anything from covering transaction fees in applications to warding off attacks on the network itself.

Hedera's two main offerings are:

- Hedera Consensus Service (HCS) - Applications in production use Hedera's Consensus Service (HCS) to do things like record transactions between blockchain networks, monitor IoT devices, and keep tabs on votes in a decentralized autonomous organization (DAO).
- Hedera Token Service (HTS) - The Hedera Token Service (HTS) eliminates the need to create and deploy a smart contract in order to configure, mint, and manage fungible and non-fungible tokens on the network.
