About Flow (FLOW)

Original:

<https://www.btcc.com/en-US/markets/Flow-USD>

Flow is a blockchain designed for extensive expansion. It does not use fragment technology and provides fast and low-cost transactions. It is meaningful for dapps such as NFT market and video games injected with cryptocurrency.

As mentioned earlier, Flow comes from dapper lab, which decided to solve the problem of blockchain congestion by establishing a blockchain ready for games and other interactive experiences. Dapper now uses Flow for all its projects, including NBA top shot, but it is also open to other developers.

Flow Token

Flow token ("Flow") is the native currency of Flow network and the cornerstone of a new, inclusive and borderless digital economy. If Flow is a digital infrastructure, the Flow token is the fuel that drives the network. Flow is the currency that the network and all the applications on it need to run. Flow is designed as a payment method and a long-term reserve asset of the whole Flow economy. The token is used by verifiers, developers and users to participate in the Flow network and receive rewards. It is also used to charge fees and participate in future agreement governance.

Flow Ecosystem

Flow is a blockchain designed from scratch for mainstream adoption. It is the only blockchain with improved availability at the protocol layer. Top developers and some of the world's largest brands have developed on the basis of Flow to realize a new experience through top-level content.

Flow has a rich ecosystem composed of top entertainment brands, development studios and venture capital backed start-ups. The partners of Flow ecosystem include global IP brands such as Warner Music, Ubisoft, NBA and UFC; Leading game developers such as animoca brands, sumo digital and Nway; Leaders in cryptocurrency such as circle and binance; And several noteworthy projects in the next generation of high growth start-ups such as opensea.

What Makes Flow Different?

Learn and improve from existing solutions, provided by Flow.

- Multi role architecture. Flow's design is unique, allowing the network to expand to serve billions of users without fragmentation or reducing the dispersion of consensus.

- Resource Oriented Programming: the smart contract on Flow is written in cadence, a simple and secure programming language for encrypting assets and applications.
- Developer productivity: from scalable smart contracts to Flow simulators, this network is designed for those who want to create valuable products for the community.
- Consumer entry. Flow is designed for mainstream consumers. Its payment channel realizes a safe and low friction path from legal tender to cryptocurrency.
